Product Description

Tension2Go is the compact and mobile version of the ultimate guessing game TENSION, perfect for the whole family! You don't need a game board or pieces. Instead, you get 55 double-sided cards, an hourglass and scoring chips so you can take the game with you wherever you go. In this fast-paced race against time, two teams compete to find as many correct answers as possible to the given topics on the cards. But here's the trick - only answers that exactly match the list on the theme card count! This means that the teams have to throw as many answers as possible into the round while the hourglass continues to tick mercilessly. Which team will reach the finish line first with the points earned from the correct answers? With Tension2Go, you can enjoy this exciting game anywhere and anytime without having to rely on a game board or pieces! Important information Magnets included Caution!
