Product Description

The three of you wake up in a clearing in the forest ... bound hand and foot! Fortunately, the bindings are not very tight, so you free yourselves after just a few minutes. Now you can ... actually, what? Who are you? What has happened? You look at each other and see only blank looks on your faces. You try hard to remember and, bit by bit, fragments of memories appear in your mind's eye. If you all describe what you remember, you might be able to reconstruct how you got here. What happened to you - and why? Perspectives is the investigation game for communication professionals. Each of the three cases consists of four acts. The players solve the cases by comparing photos, documents and clues. However, each player only has part of the important information, as the cards are not shown to the other players. To solve the cases, players must reconstruct the events and find all the pieces of the puzzle and combine them correctly. The three cases in Perspectives (Blue Box) are about amnesia in Roman Britain, a poisoning in a monastery in France and a mysterious legacy in the Wild West. - 2-6 players - 12+ Age - 90+ minutes
