Product Description

The new educational game "I discover the emotions" from the successful "I learn" series was developed in close cooperation with educationalists based on the well-known book "The Colour Monster" by Anna Lenas. It offers 10 interesting ways to discover and name the emotions of anger, fear, sadness, serenity, joy and love. Conveniently packed in a small case are 24 large cards, an emotion turntable, a mirror and seven containers for a total of 120 balls in six different colours. Both the game board and the markers are magnetic, preventing them from slipping out of place. With the little colour monsters, children of kindergarten age can immerse themselves in the world of emotions in a fun and playful way.- from 3 years old
