Product Description

Insert - For Rising Sun Daimyo and Expansions: Dynasty Invasion, Kami Unbound, Monster Pack

The insert is compatible with the Rising Sun Daimyo box and its expansions Dynasty Invasion, Kami Unbound and Monster Pack.

The design provides both efficient storage and improved game play. Many of the trays can be utilised during the game and they greatly aid set-up and clear-away times. While this insert does allow for vertical storage, the game contains many miniatures with protruding weapons that are liable to bend. We recommend therefore to store the game horizontally. The two largest monsters, the Daikaiju and Earth Dragon, don't have their own trays, but have slots between other trays. The Kami cards stored vertically down the side of the monster trays.

There are trays for the player miniatures, with separate trays for each of the three clans. The tray for the Moon clan is unique, being designed specifically for the clan's different sized miniatures. The trays have gaps next to the tray wall to allow the miniatures' bases to slot into them. This prevents the white and black based minis from moving. The fourth tray is for the smaller monsters from the Daimyo box, and the smaller lucky gods miniatures from the Dynasty Invasion expansion.

The clan trays work on the principle of having the miniature's base slot into a gap in the bottom of the tray next to the tray wall. This gap holds the miniature in place by it's base and the tray height is such that when a lid is on top of the tray the base cannot come out of the gap. The two compartments in the tray are different. The one for the bushi miniatures has an extra layer inside to lift them up against the lid above and to hold onto their smaller bases. The one for the Daimyo and Shinto miniatures has a plastic ring base. Due to the size of the moon clan miniatures, the tray for them has no middle divider.

There are three trays for storing the monster bases. There is a tray for the season cards, with space for all cards to be sleeved. The last tray at the top is for the hexagon clan markers, and the three clans' plastic strongholds.

There are trays for the large monsters. Each has it's designated slot and again the tray bases have a gap cut into them to hold the monster's base. The Fujin Kami miniature also goes here.

There are trays for the medium sized monsters, gods, and the remaining Kami miniatures. There is also a slot for the plastic alliance markers from the three clans.
