There are trays for the goods and food tokens. There are four taller trays and four shorter trays, to allow for the different quantity in the game of each type of token.

There are card trays, four in all. They are of two different heights, again to match the number of each type of card. There is space for all cards to be sleeved with quality sleeves.

There are trays for the coins and other game tokens and tiles. There are two trays for the coins so that they can be placed on either side of the board in easy reach of all players.

As mentioned above, the trays can be used during the game to organise the components and make access by all players easy. Note that the goods and food token trays are sized so that they fit neatly onto the board in the respective places for these resources.
