Product Description

The Tesseract appeared in the sky six days ago, directly above the Earth's magnetic north pole. At that time, it was the size of a skyscraper. Since then, it has condensed and collapsed in on itself. It now fits in the palm of your hand. Are we intelligent enough to defuse the Tesseract? Or will humanity go out like a small light in the vastness of the universe? Only time will tell. Tesseract is a challenging, co-operative dice manipulation game that revolves around the Tesseract, which is made up of 64 dice. Your task is to defuse the Tesseract as a team by adjusting the cubes, transferring them between your labs and finally rendering them harmless in a special defusing matrix. You win when the matrix is completely filled with cubes and the artefact shuts down. However, if you remove the last cube or the detonation sequence is completed, you lose ... and the Earth is destroyed. Details- 1-4 players- 14+ ages- 60+ minutes
