Product Description

Stacking salad Meal time! Off to the buffet, where lots of delicious food is already waiting to be stacked on the players' plates. Whoever finds the right balance so that as much food as possible fits on the plate without it falling over is the winner. In Stacking Salad, players need a steady hand to stack as much food as possible on their plate to score points. In each round, new food is offered at the buffet. In turn, each player takes a food item and tries to stack it on their plate so that no food falls off. If the pile of food does fall over, half of the food and therefore valuable points go in the bin. Scoring takes place after five rounds: In addition to particularly high-scoring foods, there are now extra points for the person who was able to stack the highest plate. Stapelsalat also includes rules for older children and professionals with guest cards as well as a solo and a cooperative mode. Important notes Attention! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
