Product Description

Stone Age talk by Megableu FLEK? BOOO! KLUV! That's what it might have sounded like when Stone Age people talked. But what do the words mean? They are prehistoric building instructions! Each team has to try to build figures from different shapes. But only the Stone Age architect in the team knows which figure to build. Each component and each direction is assigned a Stone Age sound. The architect must make these sounds and the team must try to understand them and build the figures correctly and quickly. For example, "FLEK BOOD KLUV" could mean: "Turn the blue cube to the right". Which team gets on best? Get ready for the loudest, funniest and craziest building site in the entire Stone Age! New combinations of words and instructions in every game. Trains team building and concentration - not just for children - Family game for ages 7+ - Players: 4+ players - Playing time: approx. 30 minutes - Author/Illustrator: MEGABLEU
