

Item no.: 397481

63240 - Model Set Leopard 1

from 32,89 EUR

Item no.: 397481
shipping weight: 0.20 kg Manufacturer: Revell

Product Description

Are you looking for a model kit that combines your passion for military history and technology? Then the 1:35 scale model kit of the Leopard 1 is the perfect choice for you. With its 260 parts and a length of 273 mm, this kit is an impressive model of the first battle tank developed in Germany after the Second World War. This model offers you the opportunity to build different versions of the Leopard 1. Optional parts are available for German, Belgian and Dutch versions. The vinyl track is easy to assemble and the turret can be rotated. The gun is height-adjustable and the model includes authentic decals for four different versions of the Leopard 1, including the Bundeswehr 194 and 153 Armoured Battalions as well as the 4th Lancers Regiment and the A Eskadron / 41 Tank Battalion. The age recommendation for this model kit is 12+. This kit offers excellent value for money and is ideal for collectors, modelling enthusiasts and fans of military and technological history.

Features:- Scale: 1:35- Recommended age: 12+- No. of parts: 260- Length: 273 mm- Optional parts for German, Belgian and Dutch versions- Easy-to-assemble vinyl track- Rotatable turret- Height-adjustable cannon- Authentic decals for four different versions

Scope of delivery:- Kit incl. assembly instructions. Assembly instructions and decals

Background information: The Leopard 1 is a legendary main battle tank developed in Germany in the 1960s. It was the Bundeswehr's first mass-produced main battle tank and had a major influence on the development of modern tanks worldwide. The Leopard 1 was produced in various versions and was also used by other countries such as Belgium, the Netherlands and Canada. Today, the Leopard 1 is no longer used by the Bundeswehr, but it has a firm place in military and technological history and as a model kit for collectors and modelling enthusiasts.

Attention! Not suitable for children under 12 years.

Specifications

Scan this QR code to view the product
All details, up-to-date
prices and availability

