Product Description

You slip into the role of an inventor to make a lasting impression in the world of robotics. You build robots and get good grades at school. Your inventions also improve your skills. If you run out of resources, duct tape can save the day! Raising Robots is a competitive engine-building game. You select and carry out two or more actions simultaneously: Upgrade, Assemble, Design, Manufacture, Recycle. Each action is performed with a variable amount of energy to make it better or worse. However, the strongest actions also help your opponents. Whoever has the most points after eight rounds wins.
