Product Description

The law of heavenPriests of Orthodoxy - from the pompous bishops of the capital cities to the humble parish priests in the poorest fiefdoms - can be found everywhere in the known worlds. While this ruling sect of the Universal Church is known for its shrewd political manoeuvring, most of its priests know little of such things, being far too busy protecting the souls of the simple faithful. While many despise the Orthodoxy for its overtly political role, when tragedy strikes, they return to the Orthodoxy for comfort. The Imperial Dossier series explores the major factions of the Fading Suns universe in depth. Each book serves as an introduction to a single faction and has been commissioned by the Empire for its Diplomats, Bureaucrats, Soldiers, Starseals, Questing Knights and their cohorts, with commentary from the Imperial Eye. Each book also contains a 'factbook' on a topic closely related to the faction in the dossier, as well as a rules section containing new callings, benefits, equipment and even alien creatures.
