Product Description

A connoisseur game for 2 people Nobody knows when or how it happened, but suddenly two timelines had merged into one and there were two time agencies. One thing is clear: both agencies know that their time is limited. Everything they do is a power play for control of the shared timeline. When the great regulation comes, only one agency will remain. The other will perish in the river of time. Time researchers have identified several critical moments in the shared timeline that could prove decisive. Influencing key figures in these eras could be the path to dominating the entire timeline! Take on the role of a time agency and vie for control of the timeline. Influence important people in three key eras (Ancient Egypt, Dark Ages, 80s) to manipulate the flow of time and ensure the continued existence of your agency! Game components- 1 game board- 4 card raisers- 60 character cards (20 per age of Ancient Egypt, Dark Ages, 80s, including 2 time travellers each)- 4 overviews (2 per player)- 1 game rule- 1 metal coin- 1 victory point marker
