Product Description

A new case for the three question marks! In this co-operative labyrinth, the three ??? and a supporting person once again work together to investigate Victor Hugenay. Round after round, the players turn the pages of a The Three?? book to find out what obstacles he is putting in their way. Will they manage to make good use of their skills, skilfully move the walls and find all the stolen The Three?? covers in the labyrinth before the last page of the book is turned? A classic game reinterpreted! For many years now, the unique game principle of the crazy labyrinth has delighted millions of people: In this co-operative team edition, players now play together as the three ??? against the art thief Victor Hugenay, because he has struck again on Rokeby Beach and stolen the most popular covers of The Three ??? cases. In search of the stolen cover illustrations, the players roam the labyrinth as Justus Jonas, Peter Shaw and Bob Andrews together with a supporting character. Only if the friends work well together will they succeed in finding all the covers before Victor Hugenay can make off with them. With this family game, fans of the radio plays and books of The Three ??? need good nerves, because suspense is guaranteed until the last minute of the game.
