Product Description

"Listen, young captain. While it may seem most profitable at first to keep all the rewards for yourself, it may be worthwhile to help your allies first. Their long-term support and gratitude will always outweigh short-term rewards." The Mission Cards expansion introduces optional tasks for players set by the major nations. When players enter a favour area and are eligible for the area's reward, they can choose to complete a mission instead of receiving the area's reward. Compatibility: Missions cannot be used on the night side of the game board.
