Product Description

Thanks to simple rules and a simple game set-up, which only consists of a shuffled draw pile, you can get started straight away with I HAVE DONE IT. One after the other, players either draw a card from the draw pile or play a card from their hand by doing what it says. For example, causing chaos by shuffling and redistributing all the cards in their hand. Or give away all their own cards. Or have all the other players give you a card. The game is played in clockwise order. Unless a card says otherwise. So the rules here are more like guidelines, except for one: whoever has the "I" "HAVE" "DONE" cards in front of them first wins. Unless the "kingmaker" or the "parasite" have their fingers in the pie, or it happens to be 9:34 pm...Around 72 playing cards with illustrations by 30 different artists provide plenty of variety in this unpredictable card game.
