Product Description

VW T1 panel van (Gulf decoration) model kit - Detailed replica on a scale of 1:24 Build the iconic VW T1 Transporter from the 1950s in its legendary Gulf Oil paintwork. This precise model kit will make the hearts of experienced modellers beat faster. The kit offers a detailed replica of the original, including the characteristic V-shaped front section and the split windscreen. The model impresses with a multi-part body, movable side doors and swivelling wheels, which guarantee an authentic representation. This model will be an eye-catcher in any collection and is a must-have for all modelling enthusiasts. Scope of delivery - Multi-part body - Movable side doors - Rotating wheels - Detailed building instructions - High-quality decals for authentic Gulf decoration Special features This kit is designed for experienced modellers (Level 5) who have in-depth knowledge and skills in model building. It requires experience in gluing and painting and is therefore ideal for those looking for a challenging and rewarding modelling experience. The VW T1 panel van (Gulf decoration) stands out with its highly detailed components and realistic design. The special Gulf Oil paint finish in light blue-orange, familiar from motorsport in the 1960s and 1970s, makes this model a unique collector's item. Background information The T1 Transporter, manufactured from the 1950s onwards, quickly became a symbol of mobility and freedom. With an unladen weight of 975 kg and a payload of 750 kg, it served as a reliable vehicle for many companies. The Gulf Oil paintwork shown here is not only a sign of its success in international motorsport, but also an expression of the cultural heritage associated with this vehicle.
