Product Description

Pitch your players into a deadly dinosaur encounter 365 million years in the making! Part of the Epic Encounters range, this 5e-compatible boss box contains all the ingredients for a reptilian rumble of the ages. (This set includes a highly detailed two-headed dinosaur miniature on a 100mm base!) Compatible with fifth edition or any fantasy roleplaying game, Nest of the Dinosaur pits you against a slaving saurian with two heads, rapier claws, and a cold, reptilian cunning. Hungry for more? Pair this encounter with Steppe of the Lizard Thane for a truly epic, cold-blooded campaign! From vast herbivores to nimble raptors, dinosaurs have inspired fascination for centuries. But the greatest adulation is reserved for the enormous carnivores whose mighty feet shook the earth in times gone by. In most places, these beasts have been consigned to the history books. Not here. Dinosaurs still stalk these lands. And – thanks to its two monstrous heads – this dinosaur is even more deadly than the rest. Whether the two-headed dinosaur is a dream creature born from the night terrors, a beast with psychic power, a strange mutant, or something else entirely is up to the Game Master. Will you live to tell this tale of Jurassic jeopardy? Or end up dinner for a death-dealing dinosaur?
