Product Description

The Marbo Vademecum juxtaposes the two aspects of Marbo as a gentle daughter of Boron and as the ancient Vulture Mother UmmGhulshach and provides historical background and various facets of the faith for the play of her consecrated ones. The protagonists are Maharaha, the last high priestess of Maha Bor in the Dark Times, and the consecrated Marbolieb, a former Boron consecrated who heard the call of the vulture goddess. Maharaha's temple in Omlad was uncovered by the events that can be experienced in the heroic work Featherfall. She left behind a detailed clay tablet archive containing her knowledge and beliefs. In her search for the essence of Marbo, Marbolieb is confronted with the centuries-old records from Omlad on the one hand and the quest of the Marbid Order on the other, and tries to find her own way to the goddess.
