

Item no.: 395707

DSA5 - Off to adventure - Basalt melting

from 17,27 EUR

Item no.: 395707
shipping weight: 0.20 kg Manufacturer: Ulisses Spiele

Product Description

Basalt Melting by Isabell Andersen Every spring, dwarves, elves and humans celebrate the Day of Renewal together at the crater of the volcano Maw. At this festival, the otherwise disparate peoples with their different beliefs forget their differences and welcome together the splendour of the reawakening nature under the light of the rising sun. Countless pilgrims visit the ancient sanctuary, which on these days looks like the scene of a small folk festival, and those who have made the arduous journey over the ring wall of the volcano find themselves in the company of numerous dwarven dignitaries. But the gloomy shadow of a threat long thought to have been defeated settles over the colourful ceremonies, and the joyful exuberance turns into a fight for survival. Off to adventure! This is the name of the series of short adventures that come with ready-to-play characters, a few rule expansions and a brief description of the adventure location. The players choose their heroes, read through their character's short backstory and are drawn directly into the events of the adventure without any character creation. A DSA group adventure for 36 ready-made heroes Genre: Disaster scenario, survival combat Prerequisites: none Location: County Maw, Kingdom of Garetia, Rashtulswall Time: Tsa 1046? BF Complexity (player/master): low / low Experience of the heroes: competent Important skills: Physical talents 3 of 4 Combat 3 of 4 Crafting talents 2 of 4 Living history 3 of 4 To play, you only need The Black Eye rulebook and the Aventurian Almanac. All other information for experiencing the adventure and ready-to-play heroes are included in the volume.

Specifications

Scan this QR code to view the product
All details, up-to-date prices and availability

