Product Description

Baubylona three-dimensional dice game by Reinhold Wittig Use your imagination and creativity to design your game board - become the master builder of Baubylon. The board game Baubylon by Reinhold Wittig is already a classic. 40 wooden blocks are reassembled each time to form a new game board. Depending on the desired level of difficulty and possibly the age of the other players, the pieces are sometimes built higher and sometimes more on the level. The aim is to be the first to climb to the highest point on the board with one of your own pieces. This can be done by moving, climbing, blocking and hitting. However, each change in height by the height of a piece also consumes one dice point. This game combines logical thinking and spatial awareness with fun and the luck of the dice - the annoyance factor also plays a not insignificant role. It's great fun to throw a fellow player out of the game just before they reach the highest point. Caution! Not suitable for children under the age of three. Small parts can be swallowed. for 2-6 players aged 10 and over- 40 wooden blocks, solid beech, oiled, 6 x 3 x 3 cm- 36 game pieces in 6 colours and 6 red seal pieces, 1 wooden cube Caution! Not suitable for children under 3 years of age.
