Product Description

Mill with game pieces made of tagua nut Place - move - mill! The game, in which you play on three squares lying one inside the other, is a classic with a long tradition. Even if ancient depictions of mills cannot be dated with certainty, mill has been played since at least the Middle Ages. The aim is to place or move your own pieces so that 3 pieces are positioned in a row. Whenever a player closes his mill, he may take one of his opponent's pieces from the board. If a player only has 2 pieces left, the game is over and he has lost. Caution! Not suitable for children under the age of three. Small parts can be swallowed. for 2 players aged 8 and over Game board made of solid beech, oiled, 25 x 25 cm Game pieces are made of tagua nut, natural/light and dark brown in colour
