Product Description

Rocking fun!by Martin SchlegelHave you seesawed today?Colourful discs and a wooden seesaw! Looks really simple, doesn't it? Yes, it can be. If children of primary school age are playing, they will certainly find the task quite straightforward. The older ones will find it more difficult.The game is also quite simple: with each move, a disc of your own is placed or any disc is moved. The board is then tilted to the other side. And everything looks completely different on the board. The staggered grooves make it quite difficult to predict how the discs will be arranged after the tilt. And then the goal is: Three wins! The player who has at least 3 of their own discs next to or behind each other is the winner. Caution!Not suitable for children under three years of age. Small parts can be swallowed.Game material:- Game board made of solid beech with grooves, oiled, 31 x 11 cm- 25 coloured and 4 white wooden discs (5 per player and blockades)- For 3-5 people aged 6 and over, duration 10 - 15 mins.
