Product Description

Rukuni to goby Andreas Kuhnekath-HäblerThe group needs lots of towers. There are six white towers on the board, the matching pieces are in "berry" and dark turquoise. The colours alone convey a holiday feeling. And this is how you play: Players take turns to move any one tower, always in a straight line and without skipping other pieces. They then place their own piece directly next to the tower they have just moved. Move by move, the pieces on the board become more and more and groups of pieces of the same colour are formed. It is important to include the towers in your own groups and not let your partner block your access to them. This is the only way to score victory points at the end. A group of tiles of the same colour without an adjacent tower is worthless. Short rules, but lots of puzzle fun. Caution! Not suitable for children under the age of three. Small parts can be swallowed. -For 2 players aged 8 and over-Duration: approx. 15 - 30 minutes-Solid beech, oiled, 14.5 x 14.5 cm-Playing pieces are wooden plugs in white, berry and turquoise
