Product Description

Triangoli - with a modified game board and new colours by Klaus-Peter Rudolph. Only the majority counts! The entire playing field consists of triangles, four of which form an area. Each player has a playing piece and 18 markers of the same colour. The playing piece moves along the lines over free spaces, max. 3 steps are allowed. After the move, markers may only be placed in a square adjacent to the playing piece and exactly according to the number of steps. This would be quite easy to understand. However, following this, the opponent's markers are replaced by your own, again in neighbouring squares. As a result, the majority ratios in the areas change very quickly. In the end, only the areas in which the respective player has the majority score points. The other player's markers are forfeited. Until then, every space is contested, ownership is constantly changing and it remains exciting until the last move. Caution! Not suitable for children under the age of three. Small parts can be swallowed. For 2 players aged 10 and over. Duration 15 - 30 minutes. Game board solid beech, oiled, 25 x 25 cm, 2 game pieces in 2 colours, 18 markers each in 2 colours.
