Product Description

A mage without a staff is like a warrior without a sword. In this adventure, you are a young mage in search of your first staff. Why did you choose this particular grove to cut the wood for your staff, hadn't you been warned? This adventure book contains all the information you need as a solo player to experience a fantastic adventure. However, you must know the laws of Aventuria, i.e. the rules of the game. These and many other important details can be found in the indispensable Emperor's Retro Box.
