Product Description

For decades, Rome, the Eternal City, was firmly in the grip of Shaitan's demon army. Until a brave young man invaded the city with some daring companions and overthrew Shaitan from his unholy throne. A good 50 years later, Rome has recovered. The houses have been rebuilt and the streets are full of life. The young freedom fighter has become Pope Lucius IV, now an old man. But the ominous legacy of the demons has never completely disappeared. The city is repeatedly haunted by eerie phenomena: The Tiber turns red, clouds of dust rush through the alleyways like avalanches, the earth spits out demonic monsters. And St Peter's Basilica has been burning with an unquenchable infernal fire since the fall of Rome. Life in Rome is not easy, but the Romans are used to suffering and labour. Nothing, it seems, can stop them from restoring Rome to the splendid city it once was. In this Regionalia volume, the author duo Pia Kaspers and Nina Schwenzl not only describe the history, everyday life and special features of the Eternal City, but also take a look behind the scenes, revealing the secrets of the ancient buildings, the Colosseum and the new pagan cults that have formed in the devastated neighbourhoods or in the catacombs beneath the city. Perhaps the hunters will uncover all these secrets in the final adventure? The heart of Rome beats tirelessly... The Regionalia volume contains:- A comprehensive in-game description of Rome for players- All the important secrets for the HeXXenmeister- Many new monsters such as the Goss Demon and the Daemon Maximus- The new playable profession Cantor of Eternal Prayer- A longer adventure in which the hunters uncover the terrible secrets of Rome. Format: DIN A4, hardcover with leatherette binding. Number of pages: 128 pages
