Product Description

The second part of the Ancestral Fall campaign takes the heroes to Havena, where a wild ride through time awaits them and they literally have to face a time storm. In a past Havena, they have to race a vain seagull, outwit an unpleasant human and flee from a tidal wave. While the first part of the campaign was all about skilful negotiation and stealth, Zeitensturm demands decisive action from the characters and is a battle against the relentless passage of time. With Havena, the adventure shows an already familiar location from a different perspective and allows the heroes to find new friends and enemies who will accompany them throughout the rest of the campaign. The Ancestral Fall campaign allows you to experience an epic adventure together with heroes from all previously known locations from The Black Cat. Whether you are a cat from Havena, a mongoose from Fasar, an otter from Donnerbach or a turtle from Xorlosch, join forces and fight together against the Fall of the Ancestors!
