Product Description

In the footsteps of Marie Curie You are a young researcher and support Marie Curie in her research. At her side, you will discover radium, conduct experiments, improve your laboratories, record theses and receive Nobel Prizes! - Players: 2-4- Age: 10+- Minutes: 20+ In On the Paths of Marie Curie, you take on the role of researchers who support Marie Curie in her experiments. Using simple and elegant resource management mechanisms, you collect uranium, radium and pitchblende, improve your laboratories and write scientific theses. The timeline of the game board depicts the life of the famous physicist and chemist with all her milestones and ensures dynamic gameplay. The ingenious dice tower creates many moments of suspense and emphasises the experimental theme of the game. Which of you will prevail and win Marie Curie's favour? As the successor to the 2024 Game of the Year nominee On the Paths of Darwin, On the Paths of Marie Curie features completely new mechanisms but retains the elegance and beautiful production of its predecessor.
