Product Description

Quips, board game (DE), for 2-4 players, ages 3+

In the children's game "Quips" the question is who will pick the right number of stones out of the bag. Who rolls the right color? Two red wooden stones are missing in the roof and three green wooden stones in the tree. Each child has a card and must make sure that the colored wooden stones land on the correct space. Colors are compared and assigned, missing stones are counted. The first player to fill his picture with colors wins the game.

Depending on the stage of development, color cubes and additional number cubes are added and it becomes more difficult. The children get used to the first rules of the game and practice their fine motor skills at the same time.

Educational games that are really fun: This is the motto of the educational game series by Ravensburger, with which children are supported in their development in the most learning-intensive years. All games are developed and tested according to the latest scientific and educational standards. The learning materials are packed in exciting stories, a variety of materials and methods allow learning with all senses.

The Ravensburger brand has stood for quality games and fun since 1884. The German company was founded as a publishing house in Ravensburg and has been delighting young and old with a wide range of products from games and puzzles to books and handicraft materials ever since. In addition to having fun, learning is a top priority at Ravensburger: The principle of the founder Otto Maier was "learning by doing" back then and is continued to this day. Ravensburger products playfully support the development of skills for all ages. Well thought-out games, executed with high-quality workmanship: This is what the blue triangle from Ravensburger stands for.
