Product Description

Acrylic marker set Queen of Tears A battle with several participants can be a confusing affair. So that neither player nor game master lose track of the situation, we offer you acrylic marker sets with which you can depict the positions of the combatants in order to keep conflicts and other scenes clear. If two markers are close to each other on a game board, the corresponding combatants are within range for close combat. This set contains 28 acrylic markers for master characters and opponents from the metaplot regional adventure Queen of Tears for the regional game aid The Desert Kingdom, which you can use, for example, to depict combat scenes. These can be used, for example, to depict battle scenes. Included are well-known characters such as Kasim ben Malkillah, the lost son of the Caliph, the dark mage Gaiomo sâl Dolguruk and Aschna Gar, the High Mawdli of the Desert Kingdom. The set also includes two more camel markers to represent large caravans and 20 markers for a total of 5 different enemy types of the secret new threat in the Desert Kingdom. The markers for the enemies are a spoiler for the regional adventure Queen of Tears and Secrets from the regional game aid The Desert Kingdom. The markers are shipped in a transparent bag. Take care when unpacking! To use the acrylic marker set The Desert Kingdom, we recommend the game plan set The Desert Kingdom as well as the publications in the Tools of the Master series, which present rules for playing with markers. Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
