Product Description

Everything sounds like a routine mission: the heroes are recruited in the port city of Port Corrad as cover for a jungle expedition. Superbly equipped, they set off into the wilderness with a group of wilderness-savvy Chirakah and a real lady elephant, which, however, soon turns out to be a murderous breeding ground of dangerous animals, tropical diseases and hostile natives.

With this adventure, Demonicon writer Daniel Heßler sends your heroes into the steamy jungles of the Deep South - and they must summon all their skills to escape the Valley of Death alive!

Caution. Not suitable for children under 36 months.
