Product Description

Product information "DSA - Acrylic Marker Set - Disembodied Horrors" A battle with several participants can be a confusing affair. To ensure that neither players nor the game master lose track, we offer you acrylic marker sets that you can use to represent the positions of the combatants in order to keep conflicts and other scenes clear. If two markers are close to each other on a game board, the corresponding combatants are within range for close combat. This set contains a total of 62 acrylic markers with ghosts and apparitions from the creature volume Incorporeal Horrors, which are suitable for depicting combat encounters, for example. To use these, we recommend the publications in the Tools of the Master series.
