Product Description

The largest city in the Inner Sea region is about to celebrate the centenary of the Radiant Festival. The Cliff Quarter, which was once destroyed by an earthquake and has now been renovated and used as a festival site, will be reopened just in time. As in every district of Absalom, a city guard will be set up here to solve crimes and pursue evildoers from the cliff district. In this campaign, players take on the roles of members of the Absalom city guard with the task of protecting the population. Petty crooks and powerful crime bosses, bank robbers, serial killers, prison escapees, cultists and sinister conspirators await them. Their missions will take them from level 1 to level 20 - provided they survive and their bodies are not found lying smashed in the gutter or floating in the harbour basin one morning. This volume contains the six chapters of the campaign.
