Product Description

The tools of the paracoolologist contain all kinds of useful additional material for the game HeXXen 1733 in conjunction with the parazoology manual. Among them are two die-cut sheets full of monster tiles with new monsters such as the Griffin, the Lind-worm, the Wendigo or the Unicorn. In addition, you will find the 16-page adventure "Pilgrimage to Death" in this set, which can also be played separately from the rules in the Parazoology Manual. And finally, three handouts with the menagerie grid, in which you can enter all the monsters that the parazoologists were able to defeat during a field mission and possibly even bring home alive to exhibit in a menagerie. Adventure Pilgrimage to Death: A mysterious apparition in the sky sends people into a kind of religious frenzy. They follow the supposed "angel" without even suspecting the mystery surrounding this phenomenon or where their pilgrimage will take them. As hunters or paracoologists, the players should become aware of this alarming development and decide to get to the bottom of the haunting. On the way, they meet mercenaries and a scholar of the Guardian League who do everything they can to protect the apparition. Do they know more about the eerie creature? Will they help the hunters or stand in their way? And what awaits the hunters at the end of this mission? Can they solve the mystery of the "angel"? The adventure is suitable for hunters from 5th level upwards. Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
