Product Description

The game box Condemnatio includes four medium-length adventures, each of which can be played individually or in the form of a mini-campaign. The title adventure Condemnatio takes the hunters to Eberbach Monastery in the Rheingau. Strange things are happening here: whispers in the darkness, incomprehensible phenomena in the basilica ... Soon the murders begin. Can the hunters find out the secret of the monastery and stop the murderer? The Promise of Gold is set in Göttingen in the year 1733. The hunters are assigned to investigate a mysterious murder. A little later, a story full of riddles and phenomena unfolds. A demon is up to mischief, but who has summoned him? And why? Devilish Desire is set in the residential city of Bonn. The followers of a cult of Astaroth have infiltrated parts of society and even seem to be active in the court of the prince-bishop! In order to get on the trail of those behind them, the hunters not only have to survive several battles, but also demonstrate diplomatic skills, cunning and stealth. The box contains many additional elements that were unlocked as part of the successful crowdfunding for HeXXen 1733, including the fourth adventure The Gate to Hell, a table mat printed on both sides, the extra booklet Gifts of the Devil, die-cut sheets with the many new monster tiles and much more!

Not suitable for children under 36 months.
