Product Description

At the appointed time, we will rise from our hiding places and bring down the cities of the Empire. Chaos will spread across this land, and we, the Chosen Servants, will rise under HIS eyes. Praise be to you Tzeentch, changer of ways! Njawrr'thakh Lzimbarr Tzeentch!"The Enemy in the Shadows" is the first volume of the revised and updated Director's Cut of "The Enemy Within", one of the most revered roleplaying campaigns ever written. Gather your heroes and take them from their humble beginnings as penniless, inexperienced adventurers to the halls of the great and powerful, where nothing is as it seems and every decision has the power to change the fate of the Empire."The Enemy Within the Shadow" begins the five-part series of gritty and dangerous adventures for the Warhammer fantasy role-playing game that inspired a generation of players. This Director's Cut includes insightful commentary with a touch of black humour, clever suggestions for new ways to play through the campaign, and a complete guide to Bowport full of exciting places to visit and explore. Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
