Product Description

Heart of Darkness - Adventure Game Box
The corporation has discovered a new life form and wants you to study it. You are to catalogue this organism and find out how it can be used beneficially before it is patented by the corporation. Sounds like a routine job. In exchange, you'll get a lucrative corporate job or a book deal. Did I mention the pay? It's pretty generous. Seems too good to be true...
Heart of Darkness is a complete cinematic scenario for the ALIEN role-playing game, written by sci-fi novelist Andrew E.C. Gaska. It can be played as a stand-alone adventure, but is also the conclusion of the Draconis Tribe saga that began in Chariots of the Gods and continued in Destroyers of Worlds. The scenario is designed for 3 to 5 players plus a game master and leads deep into the maelstrom of soul-crushing madness. Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.

The box contains:- the Heart of Darkness scenario book- a huge two-page map (864 x 558 mm) of the Erebos plasma-collecting space station- seven pre-made characters to choose from- playing cards for weapons, secret messages and motivations & objectives- player cards and handouts
