Product Description

You're holding the BLADE RUNNER role-playing game in your hands - a neon-noir wonderland that will take your breath away, one way or another. BLADE RUNNER takes you into an atmospheric world of conflict and contradiction that isn't afraid to ask the really uncomfortable questions and explore the power of empathy, the poison of fear and the burden of being human in inhuman times. An iconic and merciless playground of endless possibilities that pulls you up off the ground, slaps you in the face and commands you to wake up. Time to live - or time to die. The official BLADE RUNNER role-playing game takes players to the streets of Los Angeles - as Blade Runners with unique abilities, personalities and memories. This role-playing game and its expansions will push the boundaries of investigative gameplay mechanics in tabletop role-playing games, giving players the tools to solve far more than cases involving "retiring" replicants. In addition to the actual casework, the role-playing game will incorporate the key themes of Blade Runner in both setting and gameplay mechanics - action, corporate intrigue, existential character drama and moral conflict. Player characters will face numerous challenges that will have them questioning their friends, empathising with their enemies and exploring the persistence of hope and humanity.
