

Item no.: 385197

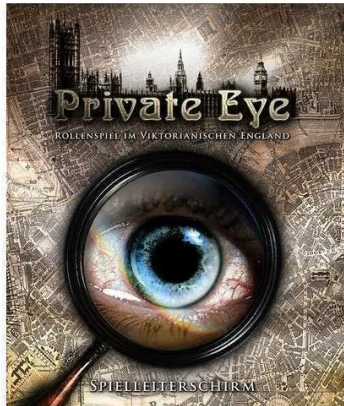

RPG759928 - Private Eye - Game master screen (PRICE-BUNDED)

from 21,30 EUR

Item no.: 385197

shipping weight: 0.60 kg

Manufacturer: Redaktion Phantastik

Product Description

So you have everything on the screen! Private Eye at a glance: The game master screen shows all the rules and rehearsals relevant to the game. There are also the most important overviews and lists that game masters will need again and again during the game. The enclosed booklet offers two opportunities for practical use: Corbridge, a small town on the border with Scotland, is the setting for the background book of the same name. Even recommended by doctors because of its beautiful countryside and good air, it is a perfect place for stressed detectives to relax. To help them feel at home quickly, several maps of the town and its surroundings, the presentation of selected buildings and, of course, the descriptions of shopping and accommodation opportunities and possible residents are provided. Two adventure suggestions about the pitfalls of inheritance and bequests and about a feud against the backdrop of the moonshine distillery show that there is more behind the tranquil façade and that a holiday for the detectives can become quite turbulent.

Specifications

Scan this QR code to view the product
All details, up-to-date
prices and availability

